Youth Scholarship Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ's):

I am a foreign graduate student with children and my income is being sent from back home, what documentation do I need?

All full-time students with no income locally, (where money is being sent from back home) must have a written affidavit (letter) signed by the parents or provider providing the funding for their graduate school children.

Do foster children count towards my household number and income?

Eligibility for a foster child is based on a separate application and solely on the amount of the child's "personal use" income.

What are some of the other monthly household income that I need to disclose?

All Alimony, Food Stamps, welfare checks, child support and disability and social security need to be included as part of your proof of income.

I am a parent and my children and I live with my parents or other family members, how will my household be considered?

Residency: Must provide either a letter from the grandparents or family member indicating that their child and grandchildren reside with them or regular residency documentation with the applicants name on it.

Income: Income provided must indicate that income made by the parent is solely supporting their child(s). If some of the income made by the grandparents or other family members is supporting the youth that needs to be indicated as well.

In the case where all family members are financially supporting the youth, all family members' income will be considered as part of the household.

How do I apply for a childcare scholarship?

Those seeking childcare scholarships must be enrolled in either the ABC's Preschool or Tiny Tots programs offered by Children's Source LLC. Perspective students will need to be referred by program staff before a scholarship application can be accepted by the City.
