

Districting Community Meetings

Find Out How You Can Be Involved!

The City of Claremont is considering transitioning from at-large elections to by-district elections and wants the community's help drafting district boundaries. The City will hold five public hearings and four community workshops to get community feedback on district boundaries. Find out about the process and give your suggestions on district boundaries at three upcoming meetings.

Community Workshops

Learn about the districting process, ask questions, and find out how to draw your own maps and submit them for Council consideration.

Sunday, January 13 at 1:00 pm

Blaisdell Community Center
440 S. College Avenue

Sunday, January 13 at 4:00 pm

Hughes Community Center
1700 Danbury Road

Public Hearing

The City's demographer will give a presentation on the districting process and the City Council will accept public comment.

Thursday, January 17 at 6:30 pm

City Council Chamber
225 W. Second Street

Find out more about the process, get a schedule of meetings, and draw your own maps at www.claremontca.org/districting.